

Helping your children choose books they will love

Lovereading4kids.co.uk is a book website created for parents and children to make choosing books easy and fun an extract from Actual Size

Written & Illustrated by Steve Jenkins

Published by Frances Lincoln Children's Books

All Text is Copyright © of the Author and/or Illustrator

Please print off and read at your leisure.

A detailed illustration of a saltwater crocodile's head, shown in profile with its mouth wide open. The crocodile has dark brown, scaly skin with lighter brown patches. Its eyes are large and yellowish-brown. The mouth is filled with rows of sharp, white, conical teeth. The background is plain white.

The saltwater crocodile, the world's largest reptile, is a man-eater.

length: 7 metres

The Goliath frog lives in Africa.
It's big enough to catch and eat birds and rats.

length: 30 centimetres, 90 centimetres with legs extended weight: 3 kilograms