

Helping you choose books for children

opening extract from

Traction Man Meets Turbo Dog

written by

Mini Grey

published by

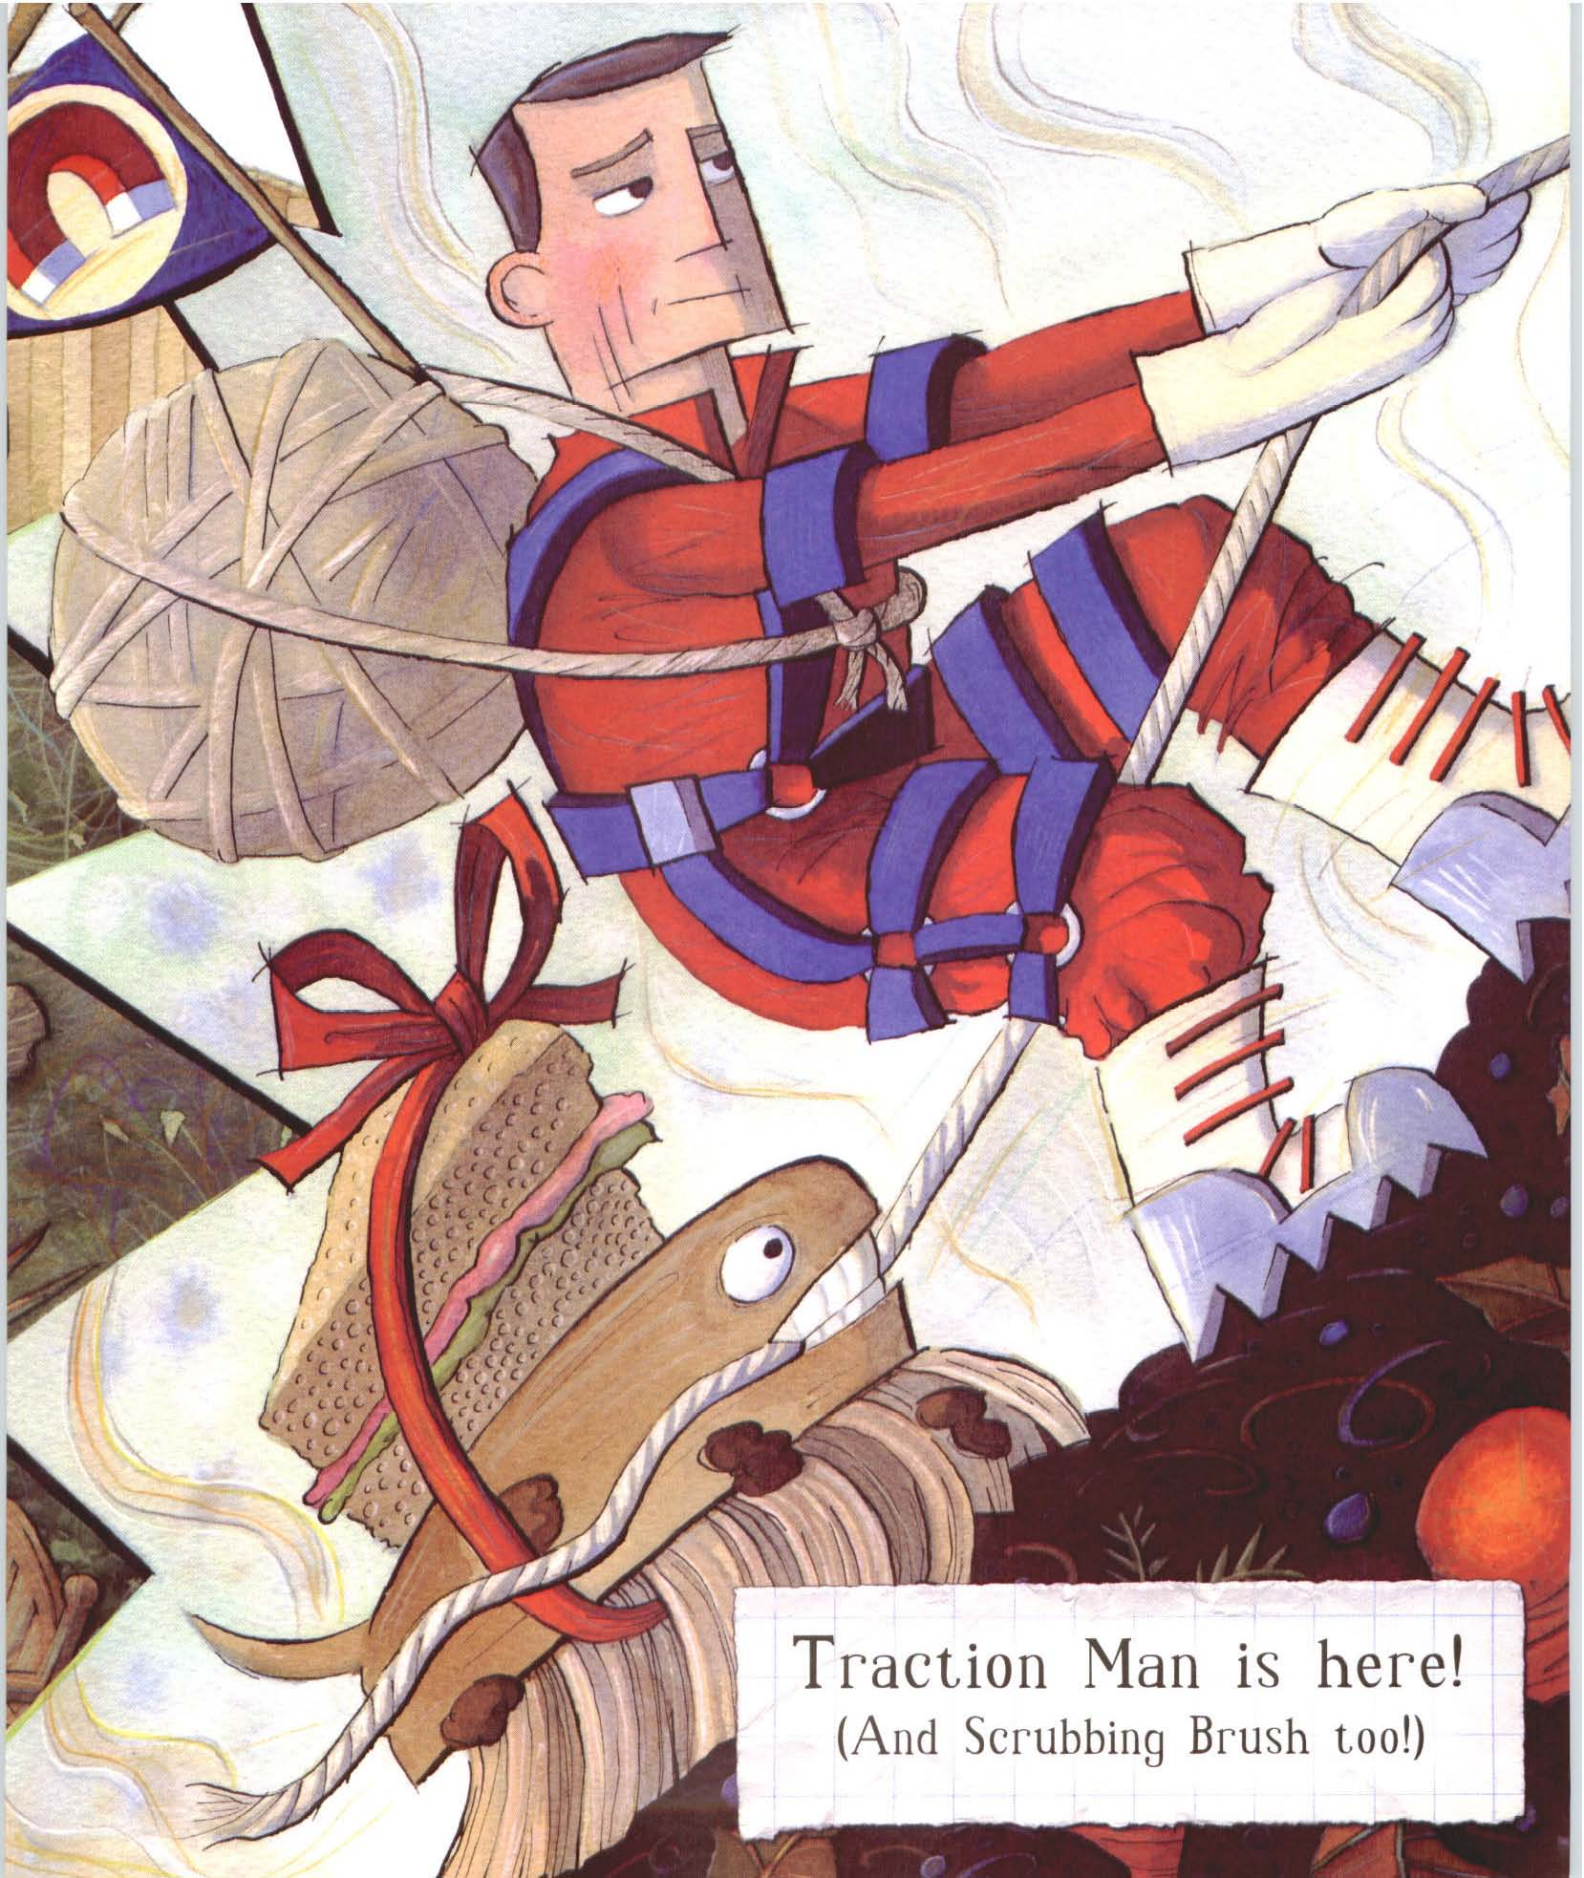

Vintage

All text is copyright of the author and illustrator

please print off and read at your leisure.

...and PLEASE stay out of the mud today.

Traction Man is here!
(And Scrubbing Brush too!)

Traction Man and Scrubbing Brush are on the North-West Slope of the Compost Heap.

Traction Man is wearing his Rubber Rescue Harness, Glacier Boots
and lots of rope.

Scrubbing Brush
is carrying LUNCH.

This Ancient Potato is guiding them to the top.

They have to pass through the ring of Mystic Shrooms.

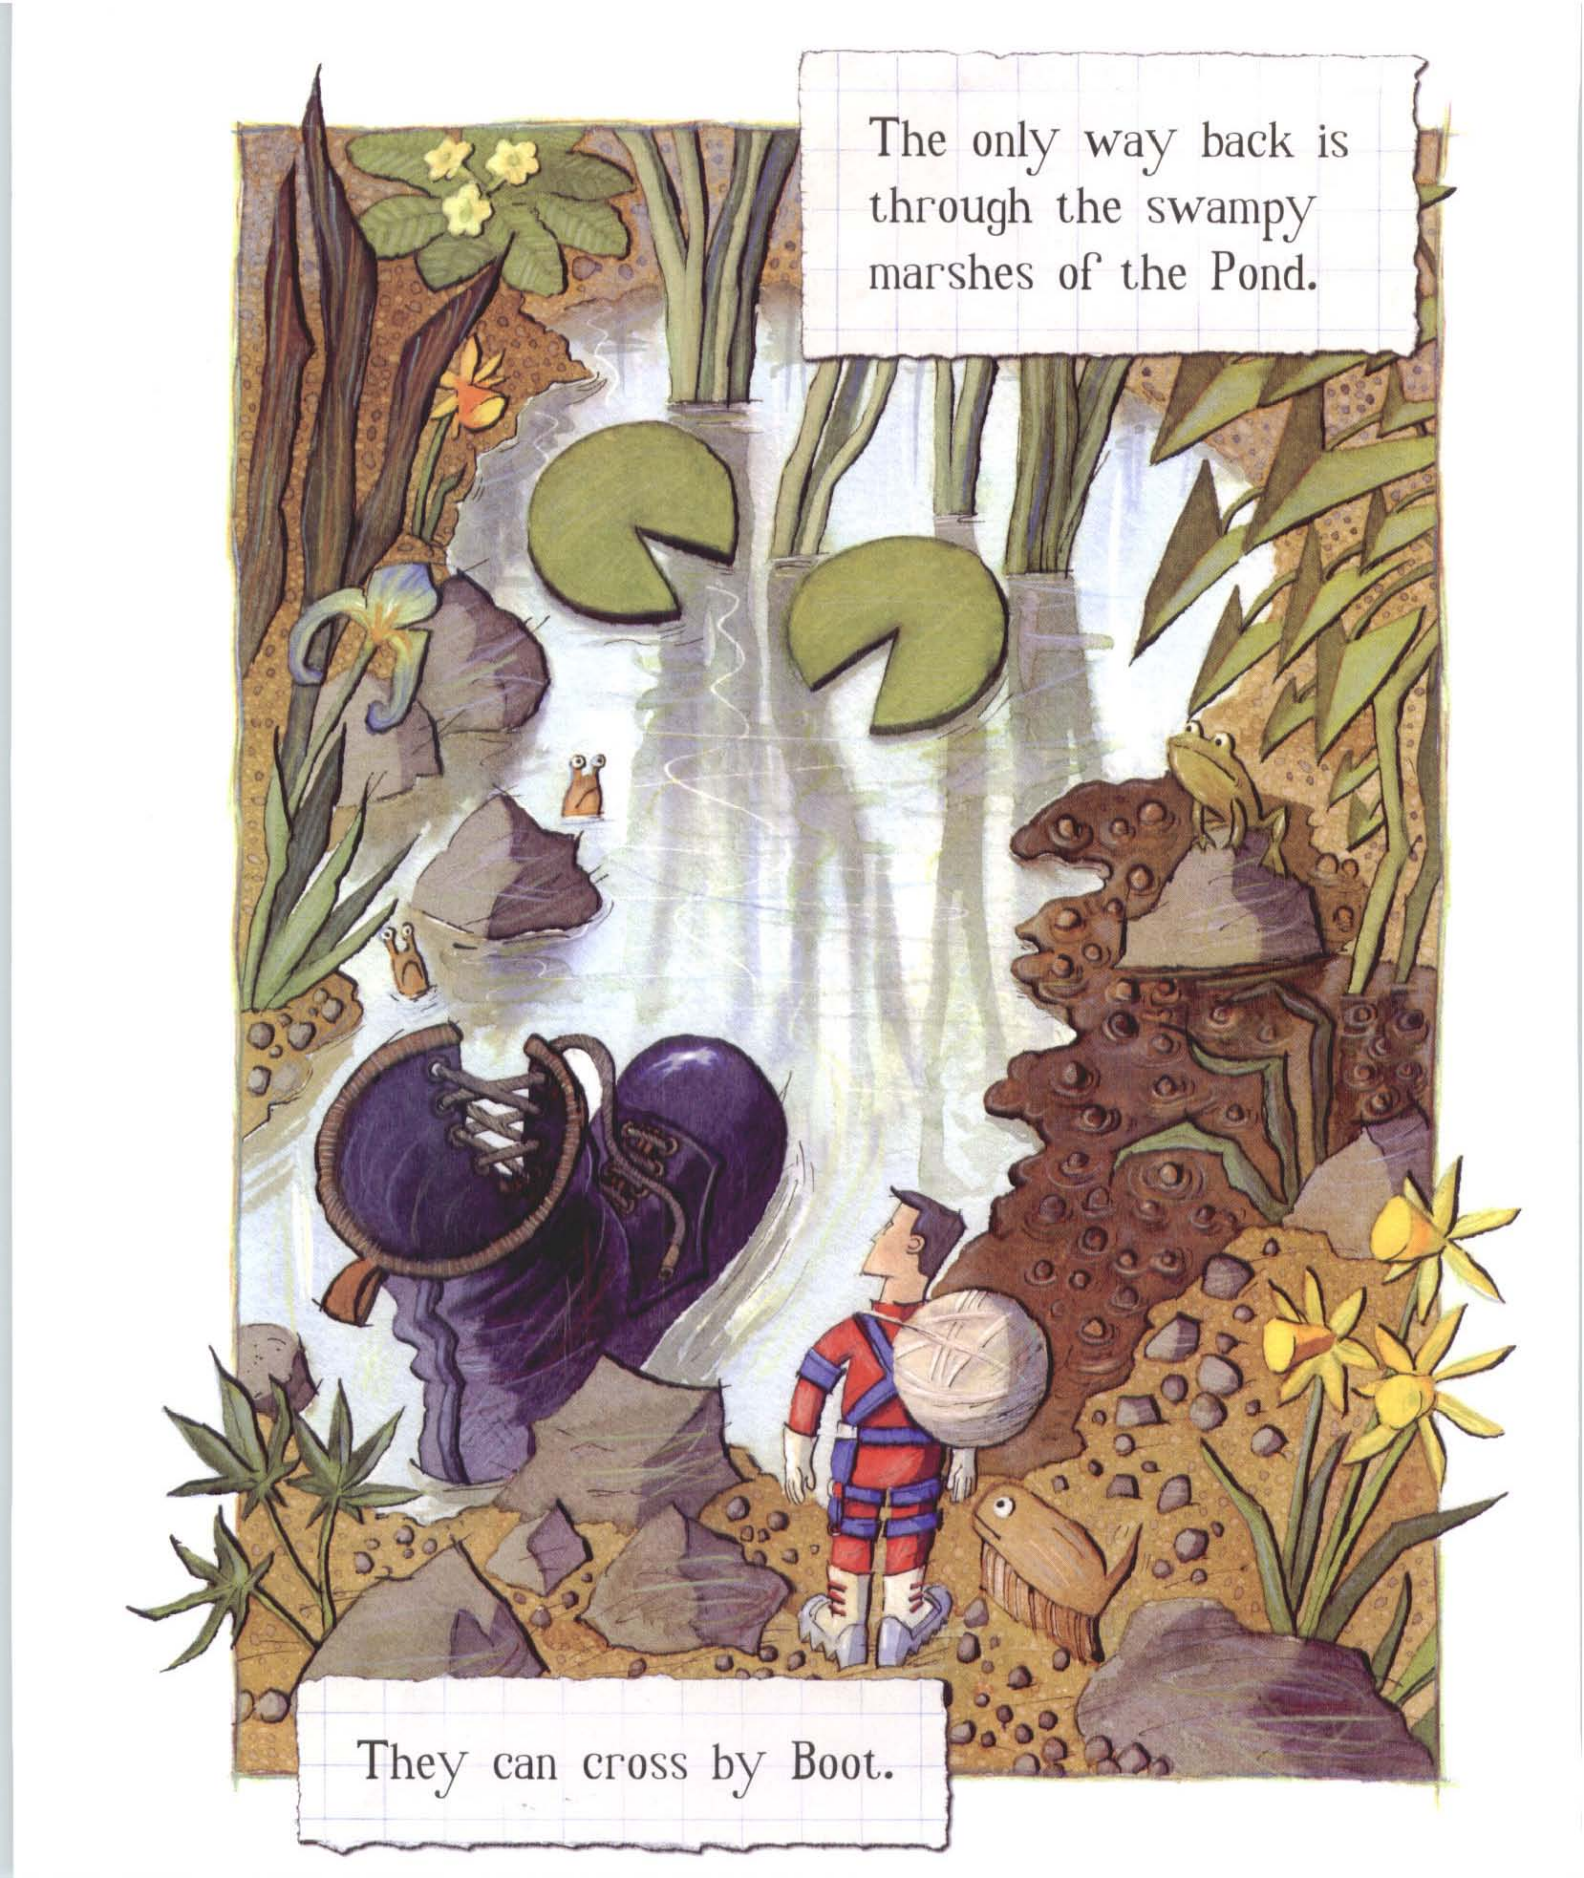

They bow to the Shrooms.

The Summit!

They plant a flag and have their sandwich.

A vibrant, stylized illustration of a swampy pond. In the foreground, a young boy with dark hair, wearing a red and blue outfit and carrying a large white bundle on his back, stands on a rocky bank looking towards a large purple boot. The boot is upright and appears to be a way across the water. The pond is filled with water, lily pads, and various plants like yellow flowers and tall green stalks. Several small orange frogs are visible in the water and on rocks. The scene is framed by a white border with a grid pattern.

The only way back is through the swampy marshes of the Pond.

They can cross by Boot.